The Rev. William Meade Clark, pastor of St. James Episcopal Church, officiating.

It was a very pretty home wedding, charming and very impressive because of the simplicity of the ceremony. The house was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and yellow daisies, and an altar of ferns was arranged at one end of the parlor. To the strains of the Bridal March from "Lohengrin," played by Mrs. J. P. Archer, the bride party entered. They were preceded by two little boys, William Nash Beverley and Robert Carter Beverley, who held the ribbons. Following them were the bridesmaids, Misses Fannie Scott Beverley, of Essex; Mary Welby Turner, of Fauquier; Minnie Smith, of King George; Alice Faulkner, of Boynton; Caroline Nash, of Atlantic City, and Hattie Gray, of Richmond. They wore charming lingerie frocks of soft white mull, hand-embroidered, and carried French baskets of yellow daisies. Mrs. R. Carter Beverley was her sister's dame of honor. She wore a gown of white silk and carried a bouquet of white roses.

The groomsmen were: Messrs. Richard P. Winston, Alexander S. Turner, of Fauquier; R. Carter Beverley, David H. Leary and Paul Fishback, of Indianapolis. Edward C. Turner, of Fauquier, acted as his brother's best man. The bride, who entered on the arm of her uncle, Captain Joseph Hobson, of Powhatan county, wore a gown of soft white silk and a long tulle veil arranged with lilacs of the valley. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner left immediately for Indianapolis, Ind., where they will make their home. Among the guests from a distance present for

PARTY LEADERS ARE CONFIDENT

Believe Stuart's Chances of Election Grow Brighter Each Day.

CAMPAIGN MAPPED OUT

Candidate for Congress in the Ninth Will Take Stump.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Pulaski, Va., July 7.—It was announced at the Ninth District Democratic headquarters here to-night that Henry C. Stuart will make his opening speech as the party's nominee for Congress at Gate City, in Scott county, on August 20, and those in charge of the campaign declare their belief that he will meet with a royal reception.

Mr. Stuart's itinerary up to October 17 has been made out and is as follows: Gate City, August 20; Tazewell, August 22; Jonesville, September 5; Lebanon, September 6; Abingdon, September 26; Wise Courthouse, October 10; Wytheville, October 17.

Other prominent speakers will fill the following appointments for the party: Marion, September 5; Pulaski, September 5; Clintwood, September 27; Gate City, September 27; Bland, October 17.

Party leaders from various portions of the district have been clamoring for the Democratic standard-bearer to fire his opening gun in their respective counties, but Scott was finally determined upon after a conference with Mr. Stuart, who partially promised his friends at Gate City, when he was over there last week, that he would address them on August 20.

They promised him a great crowd, and declared that his presence there at that time would result in much good to his cause.

Swanson Will Speak.

Though it has not been definitely determined who will fill the other dates arranged, it is known that former Governor Swanson, who is among those who will go to some of these points, and that he will spend from ten days to two weeks in the district campaigning for Mr. Stuart.

Governor Swanson was here for a few hours yesterday on his way home from Grayson county, where he delivered a Fourth of July oration on Monday, and he was called upon by several Democratic leaders who are active in Mr. Stuart's campaign. The former Chief Executive expressed himself as well pleased with the outlook for a solid delegation from Virginia in the Sixty-second Congress and displayed a deep interest in the success of Mr. Stuart. He declared that his services are at the disposal of the campaign committee, and that he will gladly begin speaking for Mr. Stuart whenever the local authorities indicate their desire for him to do so. It is not unlikely that he will go into all the counties in the district, and also make one speech in the city of Bristol.

Senator Martin is another prominent leader who will take an active part in the Ninth District campaign, and it is certain that he will be asked to cover a number of important points. He has already formally tendered his services to the committee. A number of other prominent speakers have been asked to come into the district, and much Democratic oratory is expected when the stump campaigning begins.

According to Democratic leaders who are in close touch with the situation, Mr. Stuart's prospects for election are steadily brightening, and that declare that they confidently expect him to win.

District Chairman Peyton F. St. Clair, of Giles, spent a day here the earlier part of the week, and he was in good spirits over the outlook.

Mr. Stuart, who is now at his home in Russell for a few days, has been in all the counties of the district except Dickenson, and he declares that he found the situation most encouraging all along the line. He is proving himself to be a most successful quiet campaigner, and his plain Democratic way of meeting the people is making him many new friends. He is widely known throughout the district, and in a number of the counties his personal acquaintance with the farmers and cattle men dates back many years.

Friends Confident.

Mr. Stuart's friends are confident that when he takes the stump he will be greeted by large crowds, for his nomination and preliminary canvass of the district have already aroused unusual interest and enthusiasm among the voters.

The battle will be on in earnest within the next few weeks, and though the Republicans are going to make the fight of their lives to hold on to the district, the Democrats are in a militant and aggressive mood, and are preparing to give the G. O. P. the very best they have in their shop in the way of an old-fashioned scrap.

The Stuart leaders are taking much comfort out of the fact that the Democrats of the district are thoroughly united and that there are no Insurgents in their camp.

On the other hand, it is understood that in certain portions of the district Mr. Stuart has lost much of his former popularity and prestige within his own party and that a number of Republicans have indicated their purpose to vote for the Democratic nominee this fall.

At any rate, a great battle is in prospect, and there are many indications that it will increase in heat as it progresses.

CHRISTIAN UNITY FOR MISSION WORK

Reports From Edinburgh Gathering Made to Young People's Conference.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Asheville, N. C., July 7.—Reports from the World Missionary Conference were made to the delegates and others attending the Young People's Missionary Conference here by Edmund D. Soper, general field secretary of the movement, and Harris W. Heicks, general secretary. Both were delegates to the Edinburgh conference, and both conveyed impressions of that meeting to the conference here that were comprehensive and effective.

Mr. Heicks gave some interesting impressions of the conference and a review of its work and achievement. He spoke especially of the unity of the workers gathered in Edinburgh, of the exchange of helpful methods and of the firm conviction which he had that all that on the foreign field oneness of spirit among all denominations must prevail, as the heathen do not welcome the idea of sectarianism, and the fact that no one denomination possesses all the truth makes oneness of effort all the more important.

Mr. Soper spoke more particularly of Scotland, of Edinburgh, of what they furnished in the way of a setting for that remarkable meeting, and of delegates who constituted the same. He showed that of the 1,200 delegates present 500 were from Great Britain, 300 from the United States and Canada, and 200 from Continental Europe.

During the discussion on the subject of "Christianity Giving the Heart," occupied the attention of the delegates for an hour this morning, the raising of money in the Sunday school and the purpose for which it should be applied, received special emphasis.

The principal thoughts brought out in this connection were these: "Children in the Sunday school ought to be taught to give to every object of the church on account of the educational value of such training, giving increases loyalty, interest and self-reliance in this connection were these: Children in the Sunday school are to be others to share the burden of the church. It is a good plan for children to be encouraged to make their money and give it to the church, rather than always contribute what they receive from their parents."

This evening vespers service was held on the lawn, and several other prayer services were conducted in the interest of special objects. That in interest of the "Christianity Giving the Heart" mission in the Protestant Episcopal Church, has arrived, and will deliver the principal address to the conference to-morrow morning.

PLANS ENLARGED FOR NEW RAILROAD

Line From Roanoke to Floyd May Be Extended to Mt. Airy, N. C.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roanoke, Va., July 7.—Roanokers interested in plans for building the Bent Mountain and Floyd Railroad from Roanoke City to Floyd County House, Virginia, sent a representative to Mount Airy, N. C., to interview people and ascertain their views on a plan to extend the line to Mt. Airy, passing entirely through Floyd and Patrick counties, this State, and making the total length of the road one hundred miles. From Roanoke to Floyd County House, the distance is about fifty miles, and from Floyd to Mt. Airy it is fifty miles. The project of this kind will receive enthusiastic support from Floyd and Patrick counties in Virginia, and Surry county in North Carolina. Mr. Airy, which is in Surry county, is growing rapidly, and promises to become a railroad center.

A line is projected there from Stoneville, N. C., on the Roanoke and Southern, and one from Statesville, and if the Floyd road should be extended there it will have exceptional railroad facilities.

A special dispatch says that Congressman Carter Glass, of Lynchburg, is in Washington urging immediate steps for a geographic survey of Floyd county, as a preliminary for the actual construction of the Floyd Railroad. There is no railroad in Floyd county at present.
